DELAY FEARED IN EQUIPPING SCHOOL

Money Shortage May Put Off
Opening New J. H. S.
Until 1923.

Whether the furnishings can be bought before January, 1923, was expressed at the December meeting of the board of education, Monday night. It was decided that the school opening would be postponed until the authorization of payment of $25,000 to J. C. Cullen and Son for work done on the new high school and appointment of a committee to investigate conditions in the school.

The city council recently authorized a $70,000 bond issue to cover the cost of completing the high school, not covered by the $100,000 bond issue. This means that the $25,000 or $30,000 for the desks and other equipment necessary to be in the school before school opens, will probably be placed in the budget for 1923. The board of education has not yet passed the resolution to issue the bonds. The board of education has not the power to make a contract without having the money provided for and consequently it can not order the purchase of desks and other equipment until next October. It takes about five or six months for the companies to fill an order for equipment, Mr. VanRyn, Milwaukee architect, present at the meeting, stated.

Borrow from State.
Supt. T. O. Holt offered a solution in proposing that they borrow the money from the state.

President Jesse Barie said there would be possibly between $10,000 and $15,000 to be applied on the cost of the equipment from money saved on the estimates of the contractors for work on the high school building. The board saved $4,600 alone on the estimate. The board passed the resolution offered by Commissioner Charles Magdalen concerning the informal vote previously taken on the selection of the building brick mortar to be used in the new high school. It is to be a light green.

Elts amounting to $15,450.55 were ordered paid.

Plan Social Center.
A committee of Mrs. Fred Sutherland, Charles Magdalen and Supt. Frank Holt, was appointed to investigate the possibility of installing movable desks in one room of the high school to be used as a social center. The board of education in making it a community social center. A proposal that the board install this type of desks, received the approval of the board. President of the association met with approval and the money would have been immediately appropriated but for the need of economy on the board's part to get through the year on the budget.

"This district is a long distance from the center of the city and amusements and recreations which are available to those close to the center of the city are not available to us here on account of the distance," says Mrs. Cronin's letter. "Transportation is good, but fare is high. There is a foreign element in this district who can be reached only through the schools. Their children attend the schools, therefore their interest lies there. We feel we could make the Jackson school a social center, a place where the parents could meet for educational purposes, lectures, motion pictures, and possibly a social dancing party if we continue our Parent Teachers association. The board of education would supply the school with movable or set aside seats when we have entertainments it would promote interest in social activities."

Set Faster Pace.
Reason for the work being done in the high school but the need of getting a faster pace was emphasized in a letter from Thomas Lloyd Jones, chairman of the committee on inspection of the north central association of colleges and universities. "We found the order and discipline excellent in spite of the crowded and congested conditions," said "The pupils were responsive and interested. Soon you will be in the new building which has been so carefully planned, that is as near fact as a school building ever gets. You will then be expected to produce results which approach the ideal. We saw as you know, much excellent teaching. On the whole, however, we felt that your school should have a faster pace set for it. Under existing conditions, this may be quite impossible."

For the first time in several months, three members were missing from the board meeting Monday night: Commissioners Croft, Grant and Hommink.

GOVERNOR PARDONS
TWO CONDITIONALLY

(By Associated Press.)
Madison—Conditional pardons were granted Clarence J. Rodham, Platteville, and Henry F. Meyers, Oshkosh, Tuesday, by Governor Dillingham. The application of Henry Rodham, Milwaukee, for a pardon was denied.

Rodham, serving an 18 months' sentence for grand larceny, must return to his home and conduct himself as a good citizen. While serving as a lieutenant in the aviation corps during the war, he fell and the governor says suffered mentally as a result. H. B. Morrow, director of the Wisconsin Mining school is named custodian.

Meyers, serving an 18 months' sentence for larceny, must return to Oshkosh and support his mother, abstaining entirely from alcohol.

REASSESSMENT AS ORDERED BY COUNCIL TO TAX COMMISSION

willing to do whatever the council says, I think we'd only be making a laughing stock of ourselves if we appealed for new rates within a month or so after these have been granted. Let us wait six months and we can gather new evidence to back up our protest."

Not Cutting Labor.
"I wish to reply to Alderman Horn," stated Elmer J. Faugins, vice chief of the local branch of the Bell line, "in his statement that all labor is being cut. We have not cut wages and don't intend to—we are paying the same as we paid all through the war. We have charged off no depreciation on our Jansville property since 1914 and with the new rates will be able to pay just one and one-half percent for five years. They have only 500 phones there against some 6,000 here."

The sentiment appeared favorable to making a protest sometime in 1923.

Phones in City Hall.
Mayor Welsh and City Clerk E. J. Sattell were elected a committee to order out Rock County phones in the city hall and decide as to which phones should be on a party line and which on a party line.

"You can put the mayor's phone on a party line," said Mayor Welsh. "He'll get calls enough even if they have to wait."

Permit to Phone Co.

Previous to the phone rate discussion, the council had given the Bell company permission to put in a main hole and drain on Center avenue at the intersection of Galena street and to strike a cable across the piers of the Stoneley bridge. Ald. J. J. Dulin included in his motion that Street Commissioner Thomas McKane be supervisor of the job to see that no more asphalt pavement is torn up than necessary. Trenching was advocated by City Engineer C. V. Korck to save the pavement.

With Chief Higgins explained the matter. The company desires to have its long distance wires in an underground cable extending from the Five Points to Jackson avenue, under the new Center avenue pavement. Eventually the local wires will be put underground there and the poles may be removed.

$5,500 to City.

Street certificates were ordered issued for 71 per cent of the original assessments in district 7, the money, $5,518.54, to be turned over to the contractor, Frank P. Carl. All work in this district has been completed with the exception of repairing the roadway which cannot be done until spring.

The combined bid of the five local banks offering a 2 per cent interest on the city's daily deposits for 1922 was accepted without discussion.

The following men were re-designated special police without pay: Samuel force—C. L. MacRath, David B. Curlett, Thomas V. Boggs, Supt. S. B. Callahan, J. V. Boggs, school janitors, Carl Meyer, L. J. Brown, John Evans, J. W. Bergman, Rogers, Kriehner, George Dorsett, H. B. Pomroy, W. L. Denning, and John Dalton.

Five New Lights.

On account of the additional ornamental lights, money for providing new ward lights is scarce. Ald. J. J. Jensen of the lighting committee recommended that five new lights be ordered. Upon his recommendation five 100 condenser lights were ordered in the following: South Washington street between Galena and Western avenues; corner of Main and Gardfield streets; corner of Mineral Point and North Walnut; in front of 229 North Walnut; and on South Jackson, midway between the bridge and Eastern avenue.

Alderman Jensen announced his committee's decision to place the three new main street traffic lights at the following intersections: Five Points; Pleasant and River streets; and Main and Milwaukee streets. He will make a report on the 1922 lighting contract at the next meeting.

Great Christmas Tree.

Upon motion of Ald. A. J. Gibbons, street department employees will have a large Christmas tree from "The Pines" and erect it in court house park. The tree will be lighted every night from Christmas Eve to New Year's, the letter from the Chamber of Commerce stated.

A troublesome condition, where two streets of Milton Ave. parallel to each other, each called Barton avenue, was eliminated when the council accepted City Engineer Korck's recommendation that the street in Snell's subdivision of lots 13 and 17, Smith's subdivision, be called Hawthorne avenue in the future. This is acceptable to Mr. Snell, it was stated.

Mr. Korck was also instructed to draw a new numbering map of the city to extend the present system, adopted in 1907, to the new additions and parts now being built on. The last numbering map was made in 1908.

Reflect "Gas" Tank Request.

Request of M. E. Honeysett for installation of two gasoline filling stations at the curb in front of 128 Corn Exchange was denied upon Alderman Dulin's recommendation. An invitation to send the city electrician to the conference of the Western Association of Electrical Inspectors at Chicago, Jan. 17-19, was laid over for action upon at the next meeting.

George J. Clannons were ordered paid $23.30 for rodding and digging a sewer at 1115 Burger avenue. Ald. C. J. Smith voted through a resolution ordering the street commissioner to make South Second and Third streets from Hingola to Fremont passable by spreading of gravel.

Refer Action on Hazing.

Sixteen bids for razing buildings bought by the city to allow the straightening of June street, from North River to North Franklin, were left in the hands of a special committee—Aldermen Hanson, Kelly and Gibbons—for a report back in two weeks. Bids ranged from payment by the city of $1 up to $1,000 or doing the work.

Bidders are: Hilt Bros., Otto F.

Rockman, John Stead, Gahn and Gehr, L. L. Cutts, Jos. A. Forrest, Otto Schorrock, Gilbert Siron & W. J. McGowan, J. W. Kehoe, Nathan Bowers & Co., Boos, Ford & Sons, Frank M. Bell, L. E. Dierckx, Wm. Robinson, Ernest Schumaker.

Claim Against City.

A claim for $12.50 made against the city by Charles Vest, Beloit, was ordered paid. The bill was for a broken fender on Vest's car caused when the city street flusher backed across South Main street near the new high school and into the machine.

Monthly reports of the police department, health and sanitary inspectors, municipal court, planning and building inspectors, board of education, city sealer, and city clerk and treasurer were received.

Sanitarium Cost Given As $103,000

Committee Orders, 5 to 3.
Early Report to County Board on Plans

Plans and specifications for Rock county's tubercular sanitarium were ordered by the two board committees meeting Tuesday afternoon by a vote of 5 to 3 to be reported to the supervisors during the January meeting. The committee on the site of the building, which is to be located on the site purchased north of Janesville, is $103,000.

J. Van Ryn of the contracting firm of Van Ryn and the College, corner of the Janesville high school, submitted blue prints and floor plans of the proposed sanitarium to the committee members. The proposed structure is a material with a basement, two main floors and a roof to be fitted for nurses' quarters. The north and south wing would be 335 feet long, with an administration wing, east and west, of 48 feet.

There would be room for 38 patients which could be easily enlarged. The east wing would contain the operating rooms and doctors' quarters. Rooms for the patients would be on the west side with a long corridor in the east side of the main wing. Individual dressing rooms outside of the sleeping quarters are included in the floor plans.

Plans and specifications were ordered only after considerable discussion. Three of the supervisors desired a delay and several wanted to have the county purchase property near Lake Geneva and not use the building property bought by the county this year.

A vote was taken with the result full plans will now be available early in January. Support from the Legionists is urged by the supervisors to push the sanitarium before the board for adoption.

M. L. Paulson, Evansville, was elected chairman of the committee and George Woodruff, secretary. The committee members were Chairman Paulson, Secretary Woodruff, and M. P. Richardson, Janesville; Dr. E. M. Smith, Evansville; W. W. Dalton, Clinton; Simon S. Smith, Portage; Deloit, and John A. Paul, Mifflin.

There will be at least one more committee meeting before the January board meeting.

Text of Treaty Which Settles Yap Dispute

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C.—The points of the agreement on the island of Yap are as follows:

1.—It is agreed that the United States shall have free access to the island of Yap on the footing of entire equality with Japan or any other nation. In all that relates to the landing and operation of the cable, the cable-Gum cable or of any cable which may hereafter be laid by the United States or its nationals.

2.—It is also agreed that the United States and its nationals are to be accorded the same rights and privileges with respect to radio telegraph service as with regard to cables. It is provided that so long as the Japanese government shall maintain on the island of Yap an adequate radio telegraphic station, co-operating effectively with the cables laid on shore, without discriminatory exactions or preferences, the exercise of the right to establish radio telegraphic stations at Yap by the United States or its nationals shall be suspended.

3.—It is further agreed that the United States shall enjoy in the island of Yap the following rights, privileges and exemptions in relation to electrical communications:

(A) Rights of residence without restriction and right of acquisition of land, upon a footing of entire equality with Japan or any other nation or their respective nationals of all property interests, both personal and real, including lands, buildings, residences, offices, works and appurtenances.

(B) No permit or license to be required for the enjoyment of any of these rights and privileges.

(C) Each country to be free to operate both ends of a cable to connect directly or through its nationals, including corporations, or associations.

(D) No cable censorship or supervision of operation or messages.

(E) No taxes, port, harbor or landing charges, or exactions, either with respect to cables or cables or other property, persons or vessels.

(F) No discrimination in police regulations.

4.—Japan agrees that it will use its power of expression to secure to the United States needed property and facilities for the purpose of electrical communication and facilities can not otherwise be obtained. It is understood that the local and area of land to be so expropriated shall be arranged each time between the two governments, according to the requirements of each case. American property and facilities for the purpose of electrical communication in the island are to be exempt from the process of expropriation.

5.—The United States consents to the administration by Japan of the mandated islands in the Pacific north of the equator subject to the above provisions with respect to the island of Yap and also subject to the following conditions:

(A) The United States is to have the benefit of the engagements of Japan set forth in the mandate, particularly those as follows:

"The mandatory shall see that the slave trade is prohibited and that no forced labor is permitted, except for essential public work and services and then only for adequate remuneration."

"The mandatory shall also see that the traffic in arms and ammunition is controlled in accordance with principles analogous to those laid down in the convention relating to the control of the arms traffic, signed on Sept. 10, 1919, or in any convention amending same."

"The supply of intoxicating spirits and beverages to the natives shall be prohibited."

"Article 4.—The military training of the natives shall be for the purposes of international police and the local defense of the territory shall be prohibited. Furthermore no military or naval bases shall be established on fortifications erected in the territory."

(B) With respect to missionaries, it is agreed that Japan shall insure complete freedom of conscience and the free exercise of all forms of worship which are consonant with public order and morality and that missionaries of all such religions shall be free to travel and reside therein, to acquire and possess property, to erect religious buildings and to open schools throughout the territory.

(C) Japan shall, however, have the right to exercise such control as may be necessary for the maintenance of public order and good government and to take all measures required for control.

(D) Japan agrees that vested American property rights will be maintained and respected.

(E) It is agreed that any modification of the mandate are to be subject to the consent of the United States and further that Japan will address to the United States a duplicate report on the administration mandated.

Don't Let Fire Mar Christmas, State Warning

Take no chances.

This is the warning preventing Christmas fires contained in a bulletin from the industrial commission received here, Tuesday, by Fire Chief C. J. Murphy.

"Will your Christmas be a day of joy and happiness or a day of mourning?" runs the query. "Will fire or death in your house, shop, store or church mar the pleasure of this and all future Yuletides?"

It is up to you. "Fathers have died playing Santa Claus because candles gutted the flammable suit or whiskey children have met death in the same way."

"Christmas tree fires which burned or damaged homes, churches and stores and their precious contents have been too common, and sometimes in large stores, churches and halls, panics have increased the sacrifice of lives."

"Let us banish all paper, cotton or other combustible trimmings and decorations, and use instead metallic tinsel, asbestos glaze and powdered mica. Paper and cloth, treated to render them slow burning, can now be purchased."

"A cluster of small, colored, electric lights is safer and more effective to light the Christmas tree than candles, which children are bound to light and relight, if not watched, often to their sorrow."

"Setting the tree on a firm stand and will prevent its tipping over. "Waste paper and other packing materials, coming with presents and decorations should be removed immediately, as also should the tree before the needles become dry. Christmas tree fires in January are innumerable."

"These in charge of large stores, churches, halls and other meeting places have an added responsibility. Fire in such places is liable to result in panic and holocaust."

"No combustible decorations must be used in such places. All electrical displays and window lighting should be installed by a competent electrician. Neither gaudy nor decorations should be placed near gas, electric, steam pipes or chimneys, nor any inflammable decorations attached to any electric wires, globes or fixtures, and the entire premises kept clear from combustible waste materials. It is important that all exits, aisles, fire-escapes and passageways be clear and unobstructed."

"Think of the safety of your family, your neighbors, and the fire fighters, who would also enjoy a

TONIGHT AND WEDNESDAY RIP VAN WINKLE

A WARD LASCELLE Production With THOMAS JEFFERSON

IT'S SIMPLY MARVELOUS ON THE SCREEN! As a novel "Rip Van Winkle" has brought joy to millions. Addies and "grown-ups" alike, from the time Washington Irving penned the immortal lines right up to our own day.

In play form it has won for itself a place unique in the annals of the American stage and has served to make "Joe" Jefferson—who created the title role—famous and wealthy.

And now, upon the silver sheet, Thomas Jefferson gives new life to this ageless classic. More engrossing than either book or play, it will endure for all time as one of the greatest productions the screen has ever known.

ASK COUNTY TO PAY HOSPITAL BILLS

Council Calls on Poor Commissioner to Handle Relief Cases

Janesville's bill for hospital service given persons unable to pay has mounted to such a high figure, $1,343.53 so far this year, that an appeal will be made to the county board at its January meeting to pay some portion of it. A request will be made for the county to disburse a balance of $335.10 until the end of the year. The relief cases that may arise from now until the end of 1921. The city has already paid $518.53 of the bill. The decision was reached by the board at their regular meeting, Monday night, in adopting a resolution offered by the special committee of which Ald. John C. Harlow is chairman.

The resolution carries with it the further ruling that beginning Jan. 1, 1922, the city will give only first aid treatment in such cases and that arrangements be made with the county to care for the indigent patients after that.

City Has Done Share
The committee's report points out that taxes are raised from the county at large to administer relief in indigent cases and recommends that the money be paid through the county poor commissioner's office.

"Payment of $318.53 is doing at least as much for that count as expected from the city and the county is being asked to bear no more than a proper proportion," the resolution says.

Provision is made for 48-hour notice from Mercy hospital to the city clerk and county poor commissioner when such cases are taken there.

"Janesville's Finest Jewelry Store."

YOU TELL 'EM

Reporters ask a daily question of five persons. Here's what they say:

TODAY'S QUESTION:

Is the Christmas spirit as great this year as in the past?

George H. Dwyer, 508 North First street, jeweler.—Yes. There is a lot of pep in Christmas shopping. Shopkeepers who looked over their shoulders in the past are doing their buying now. There is an unusual demand for diamonds this year and lots of people are going to be happy on Christmas morning.

Ed. H. Winslow, 222 South Main street, toy store.—It's hard for me to say because I was in an entirely different line of business last year. But I think the Christmas spirit is normal. You hear people say they aren't going to do this and aren't going to do that, but I guess they're buying as much as ever.

Miss Hazel Linker, 208 Peace court, store bookkeeper.—The Christmas spirit is the same in that people are showing an earnest desire to buy, but they feel they can't spend as much. It is evident that they are watching their pocketbooks more closely than at Christmas time in other years, although they would like to do as much as ever before.

Coradine O'Leary, 424 North Washington street, policeman.—The Christmas spirit of Christmas shoppers is an indication of the Christmas spirit then. It is evident that they are watching their pocketbooks more closely than at Christmas time in other years, although they would like to do as much as ever before.

There are as many people on the streets on week days now as there are on Saturday afternoons. I don't know whether they're spending much, but they're on the streets and growing the spirit.

Charles Newman, 220 Locust street, cigar store proprietor.—People may be more conservative this year than ever, but they seem to be spending less, the same old Christmas spirit is still prominent.

ELKHORN FARMERS BUY FINE ANIMALS

Breeders Purchase High Class Stock at Waukesha Sale.

Elkhorn.—J. M. Henderson and C. A. Cobb, well known farmers of this county, who made purchases at the recent Waukesha county Holstein sale, Elkhorn, who lives near the Waukesha county farm, bought a yearling herd sire that had been consigned by the Pabst stock farm and a particularly fine show type of animal, whose dam has a high production record. His name is Ensign Ormsby Hengerveld. Mr. Henderson purchased four females at the Monroe sale recently.

C. A. Cobb, living between Delavan and Elkhorn, made purchases including Hengerveld Signa Pauline, with 23.97 pounds of butter in seven days at 5 1/2 cents; Lyden Pledge Acma, with a 13-pound three-year-old record and first prize winner at the Illinois state fair in 1913; and a heifer calf from an 18 pound dam.

Dates for five of the farmers' institutes to be given in Waukesha county this winter have been decided upon and they will be held in January as follows: Fairfield, Jan. 3-4; Bloomfield, Jan. 10-11; Ceno, Jan. 12-13; Honey Creek, Jan. 17-18; Troy Center community, Jan. 24-25. The following subjects will be discussed: Farmers' business interests, community breeders' associations and what they should do. Cow testing associations, official testing, practical cooperation, marketing farm crops, growing more feeds, soy beans, alfalfa, clover, peas, the farm poultry flock, lining and commercial fertilizers, the home makers' club, new clothes from old, renovating, dyeing, remodeling: hot lunches at school, labor saving arrangements. The morning sessions will start at 10 and those in the afternoon at 1:30. There will be an evening meeting on the first day, starting at 8. Local talent will be called upon to assist in supplying musical and literary numbers.

KIWANIANS WANT TO STAGE FIRST SHOW IN NEW AUDITORIUM

A proposal that the Janesville Kiwanis club be given permission to stage the first theatrical performance in the new high school auditorium when it was completed was read at the meeting of the board of education, Monday night from Oscar M. Nelson, secretary of the club. It was ordered placed on file.

The club proposes that the money raised be used for completing an athletic field or purchasing athletic equipment for the new high school.

The request is in accordance with our policy of always making an effort to be first in everything that works for good not only for ourselves but for our city and its institutions," the letter stated.

TRUE DETECTIVE STORIES

More remarkable and thrilling than fiction, because they are truth. They are real facts of real mysteries which stirred the people of two continents, and they tell in gripping narrative the truth of how those mysteries were solved.

The heroes of this series are men, internationally known—Flynn, Drummond, Burns, the Pinkertons and others of the United States; Fraser of the London police, Froest of Scotland Yard, Bonfi of Italy and others prominent abroad.

These stories form a feature that can be advertised to the utmost and that will attract thousands of readers, new and old.

They are to appear in book form as soon as newspaper syndication is completed.

For present purposes this service is releasing twenty-four of the stories. Others are being prepared and will follow, probably to the number of one-hundred or more. Each story is of column length. On the opposite side of this sheet are the first six stories of the present release. Read them and satisfy yourself as to the interesting nature of the material. Titles and characters of the remaining eighteen stories now being released, are as follows:

"All the Evidence." Showing how C. D. West, commercial detective and head of the prosecution department of the National Association of Credit Men, tripped up a pair of bankruptcy crooks and sent them to the penitentiary.

"The Hotel Iroquois Murder." In which Police Commissioner George S. Dougherty applied a mixture of Sherlock Holmes and Craig Kennedy methods in such a manner as to make the guilty man practically convict himself.

"No. 2695." The numerals on a headstone just outside the state prison walls at Thomaston, Me., are supposed to mark the interment of Daniel Wilkinson, convicted of the murder of William Lawrence, at Bath, Me. The story deals with the clever work of Detective Dennis Tracey in fixing the crime upon Wilkinson.

"The Vanishing Man." An account of how Gideon Rabshaw, chief of detectives of Cleveland, O., personally scoured the country for months in search of a murderer, exhausting every clue, and how he finally captured his man through the unexpected and very innocent agency of a postage stamp.

"The Red Hand." Being an account of a very astute piece of criminal tracing by Colonel James Fraser, head of the police department of London, England. The only detail for positive identification among the teeming millions of the British metropolis, was the size of the man's hand.

"The Final Detail." How A. L. Drummond of the U. S. Secret Service, "got the goods" on William Brockway, an unusually skillful and resourceful counterfeiter. The latter spent months in building the superstructure of his scheme, but was betrayed through failure to cover an apparently unimportant detail.

"Allan Pinkerton's Record Case." How the famous detective ferreted out an "inside" job in a big express robbery. In this case the robbers were too thorough in looking after "the final detail."

"The Devonshire Diamonds." A case in which Inspector John Sweeney of Scotland Yard had an opportunity of proving his detective genius in a peculiarly striking manner.

"The Secret of Holmehurst." An amazing piece of work on the part of Detective Geyer in tracing crimes and securing the conviction of Chicago's master murderer, H. H. Holmes.

"Shadows of Evil." Frank Froest, superintendent of Scotland Yard, not only captures and convicts a Liverpool bank defaulter, but recovers most of the money and breaks up a gang which had induced the bank employee to go wrong.

"By Persons Unknown." The securing of evidence against lynchings at Versailles, Ind., in which William J. Burns, then an operative of the U. S. Secret Service, first made his reputation.

"Boland, Alias Gardner." In which the Pinkertons trailed a clever forger for many months, waiting for the inevitable slip which would land him.

"A Matter of Minutes." A case handled by William A. Pinkerton personally, in which he cleared up a big express robbery on the Rock Island railroad and convicted the perpetrators.

"The Fourth Degree." Details an original method employed by Inspector Byrnes of New York in one of his most famous cases.

"Below the Deadline." In which William Melville, superintendent of Scotland Yard during the reign of Queen Victoria, prevented rather than solved a crime by the capture of the famous Russian anarchist, Vroff.

"Out of the Air." How Talbott of the U. S. Secret Service, and Charles E. Appar, a deep student of wireless telegraphy, by the aid of a wax phonograph cylinder, plucked messages out of the air which aided in deporting Ambassador Bernstorff and other German conspirators.

"The Midnight Murder." In which John Kane, chief inspector of Scotland Yard, acted on a "hunch" and solved a very baffling crime.

"The Master Criminal." An account of the trapping of Walter Eastman Sheridan, the man Allan Pinkerton declared was the cleverest criminal he ever tracked.

These Detective Stories Are the Masterpieces of Men Who Were Actors in Their Making

These stories have a greater interest because they treat of actual crimes, mysteries and personalities, and because the events are familiar to the average memory. The American stories, located in various parts of the country, have a widespread local interest. Not only will they furnish thrills, but they point a great moral—that crime does not pay and that murder will out, no matter how clever the criminal.
